TAMPOCO INSULT
BUT ONE OF MANY
BY MEXICO TOURS

"Go the limit" in forcing Huerta to salute the United States flag for its insult to American marines in Tampico, was the personal order transmitted to Rear Admiral Badger by President Wilson through Rear Admiral Fiske today.

Mexico to enforce this demand and in addition to the great Atlantic fleet every available warship on the Pacific Coast was ordered to the west coast of Mexico.

Four great dreadnoughts of the Atlantic fleet, the Arkansas, Vermont, New Jersey and New Hampshire sailed from Hampton Roads for Mexico at 11 o'clock this morning.

The naval transport Hancock with 900 marines aboard sailed at daybreak from New Orleans for Tampico under orders to proceed under forced draft.

"GO THE LIMIT" ARE ORDERS TO THE PRESIDENT TO BAGER

By A. M. JAMIESON.

Staff Correspondent of the International News Service.

ABOARD BATTLESHIP ARKANSAS, Old Point, Va., April 15.—President Wilson's personal orders will be colored by the attitude of Charles Bager, commander of the Atlantic fleet, when he assembles his great navy force at the Washington navy yard.

Admiral Bager received his final reference in the cabin of Admiral Badger was concluded.

"PREPARED FOR WORST"

The orders transmitted by Admiral Bager to the commander of the fleet must be prepared. To do it in a fashion at the battle-ship would send to the Mexican coast, which would be the first of the fleet to be sent to the coast of Mexico.

Admiral Bager will transmit the orders to the commander of the fleet, who will then transmit them to the commander of the fleet.

instructions today. The ship was ordered to start them southward to the Mexican coast.

He was told to go to the limit to the north to terms. The code name in the form of confidential communications from the Navy Daniels said there was so important that they could not be sent by ordinary means. The wires, but were brought by Rear Admiral Bentley A. Fiske, aide for operations at the Department of Defense. Rear Admiral Fiske held a long conference with the staff of the command.

The ship left Tampa and a correspondence was maintained with the headquarters for the landing of mines and other supplies. The ship was placed in his hands by orders of the command. The orders instructed Admiral Hodge to keep the ship in the Gulf of Mexico to "go ahead" he must be prepared to land every available man on his own ship and "Go the limit," advised the officers.

GUNNERS ARE BUSY.

When Rear-Admiral Fiske arrived at the ship, he found the gunners in preparation for the departure of the ship.

readiness at Arkansas. He reached the vessel at 8 o'clock, but it was long after 9 o'clock before the con-

RUMOR U. S. S. BATTLESHIP BLOWN UP.

A rumor was current in Boston today that the United States battleship Minnesota, now at Tampico, had been blown up by Mexicans. Scores of telephone inquiries were received at the Boston American office between 12 and 1 o'clock. There was absolutely no news from Washington or Mexico to give color to such a report.

DEATH HOUSE PLOT OF FOUR GUNMEN IS LEARNED BY WHITMAN

"Dago Frank" offered to confess and take all the blame, exonerating the other three. And then "Lefty Louie" the brains of the gang, replied: "You're were all in it, and if we are going to die, we will all die together."

Shortly after "Dago Frank" was taken out and made his statement to Warden Clancy, in which on his own admission all four men were shown to be guilty.

Mr. Whitman expected today to ask that Police Lieutenant Becker's second trial be set for May 4. He will ask that a special panel of 200 talsmen be drawn, and will at once begin looking up each man on the panel.

Mr. Whitman also expects to summon Warden Clancy, Mrs. Clancy and Marie Clancy and the other witnesses at Dago Frank's confession, and to get from them all possible details of what the gunman said.

He is also investigating the alleged plot to murder "Dollie John" singer.

REPERCUSSIVE TESTIMONY.
A further sensational development of the day was the possibility that a grand jury investigation would be ordered to see if there was perjury or subornation back of the eleven hour attempt to win a new trial last Thursday on the testimony of William B. Burewell, Karl Drenner and Sam Edmington.

Meanwhile Joseph A. Shay, Charles Becker's counsel, has announced his withdrawal from the case. His reason is that John Becker, the accused man's brother, has been interfering, and has been interviewed gallantly of irresponsible men who come forward claiming to have evidence of value to Becker.

This is the story Mr. Whitman has received from the death house in Sing Sing.

One of the condemned men now there sent word that he overheard a conversation between "Lefty Louie" and "Dago Frank." The latter had just been informed by Warden Clancy that justice "off" had denied their counsel's motion for a new trial.

"Well, I guess that settles it," the condemned murderer in an adjoining cell reported he heard "Lefty Louie" had gathered at the doors of their cells, their faces pressed close to the bars.

"Lefty" and "Dago Frank" in each other as they could get. "Dago Frank" and "Whitely Lewis" Selden, in adjoining cells opposite the other two, each had his face as close to the other's as he could get. The smallest distance separated the four faces that the condoning bars rendered practicable.

REFUSAL PROPOSAL.
All identity considered the situation. "Listen," he said. "They've been after me to confess all the time. Now I'll confess and say that I did it all. I'll say you fellows told the truth about being there but not knowing what was coming off, but that you had to protect me when you said I went home. I can't be any worse off than I am and it may get a reprieve."

WARDEN J. M. CLANCY of Sing Sing, above, and "Dago Frank" Clorifio, below to the left, and Harry Vallon, who is accused in the gunmen's confession of firing one of the shots that killed Rosenthal.

ONLY 50 GUESTS FOR WEDDING AT WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Although Miss Eleanor Wilson declared for a wedding just as big as Jesus's, the counsel of other prevailed. It was learned today from sources close to the White House that the fourteenth White House wedding will be attended by not more than fifty persons, although more may be invited to an informal reception afterward.

It is said one reason for the small wedding was President and Mrs. Wilson's dislike to put the diplomatic corps, Congress and other officials in the wedding present category twice in the same year for a White House bride.

Press of public business will prevent Secretary McAdoo and his bride leaving Washington for more than a few weeks at present.

BIG LEAGUERS TO ATTEND LYNN 'NEWSIES' BALL

The Lynn newsmen will on Friday evening hold the first of a series of annual balls at Casino Hall, Lynn, to raise a scholarship fund which is devoted to sending worthy newsmen through Harvard. Lynn business men, the Lynn police, and many Boston folk are co-operating to make the affair a success.

Harry Wainshel and the committee working under his direction have invited Joe "Wood" Tins Speaker, Bill Carrigan, Larry Gardner, and the Lynn ball team to come.

A big delegation of Boston newsmen will go to Lynn for the dance and the entertainment that follows. Among the prominent Lynn men who have promised to make the affair a success are Mayor George H. Newhall, ex-Mayor William P. Conner, ex-Mayor Charles Deal, Barney, Congressman Michael F. Phelan, Postmaster Edmund S. Higgins, George W. Brand, Charles O. Blood, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Guy Newhall, Ralph S. Bauer of the North Shore News Company, John M. Harvey, J. Jackson Lipsett, Commissioner of Public Property, George, Corbin, William Johnston, Joseph Stern, Jack Beckwith, A. W. Loring, Edwin A. Northrup, superintendent of the Lynn Hotel Club; Charles J. Green, John Costello, Albert Creighton, Freeman Newhall and Thomas F. Moore, secretary of the Overseers of the Poor.

The general committee which has charge of the ball consists of Harry Wainshel, general manager, Morris Pollock, financial secretary, Ralph Cushing, recording secretary, Michael Zack, treasurer, Samuel Kaufman, publicity committee.

Hunt Madman Who Killed Employer

NEW YORK, April 15.—Armed posses are searching the woods around Greenlawn, Long Island, for Francis Fowler, a farm laborer who went insane, early today and murdered his employer, Frank P. Sammis, a wealthy farmer. Fowler attempted to kill Miss Mary Sammis, a sister of the slain man, but her quick wits saved her life. Opening a window, Fowler entered the bed chamber of Sammis and strangled the sleeping man over the head with a club.

The police of all sections are on the alert for Fowler, who is a dangerous man. For some time he has been known to be a menace to the community. A few shots just now and there will save lots of pain. And for Jack.

Honest Circulation

Means NET PAID—NOT GROSS circulation, and is what an HONEST newspaper publisher means. GROSS circulation is fraudulent circulation. The AMERICAN's circulation is NET PAID—sworn report to the U. S. government.

The Journal Accepts; The Herald Is Silent

The Boston Journal has notified the AMERICAN that it accepts the offer of this newspaper to make an examination of the circulation books and reports of both the Journal and the Herald. The Herald has made no response. This silence indicates that the Herald is not yet ready to accept the AMERICAN's generous offer. The AMERICAN is not interested in the Herald's circulation of the Journal's circulation. The offer was made solely for the purpose of giving to the public the TRUE CIRCULATION FIGURES of these newspapers and to avoid an unseemly journalistic quarrel between our weaker contemporaries.

The AMERICAN's offer still holds good, and whenever the Herald accepts this newspaper will undertake to examine the circulation reports of both the Herald and the Journal, and publish conspicuously the truth about both. If the Herald does not accept, the AMERICAN will assume that the Journal's figures of 46,297 NET PAID circulation per day are correct.

Truth Must Come Out—Good or Bad!

The SUNDAY AMERICAN and the SUNDAY GLOBE are the only Boston Sunday newspapers that so far have made public their NET PAID circulation for six months ending March, 1914.

Every important Sunday newspaper throughout the country did precisely as the SUNDAY AMERICAN did—published NET PAID circulation figures on April 5.

LEST YOU FORGET! Here are the important facts to be kept in mind by readers and merchants who are about the circulation of the SUNDAY AMERICAN and the SUNDAY GLOBE. No comparison can yet be made with the SUNDAY HERALD and the SUNDAY POST because neither of these newspapers has published its figures.

COUNT DAPPED TALLEYRAND-GOULD WEDDING

NEW YORK, April 15.—The views of the Count d'Almeida d'Almeida upon the marriage of Tallemand-Gould and American girls, as expressed in letters to the Count d'Almeida, which he died in 1913, were aired in the Supreme Court during the contest of his estate will.

The count was one of the chief beneficiaries under the will of Countess d'Almeida. He is charged with having unduly influenced his estate to make a will in his favor against several nephews and nieces.

In writing from Italy on April 17, 1908, the count said: "The newspapers say that Mrs. Gould-Catellani will marry Tallemand. I am sorry for her and do not congratulate him. They also say that the marriage of the Duke of Abruzzi is settled. I am sorry for him and do not congratulate him. I am really playing roulette with my life and I am losing it."

The player always loses, the count wrote his last will in New York City. He also failed to accept an invitation to join him and his wife for a visit in Sicily.

When the count's baby was born in 1881, he wrote his last will. The boy, Tallemand, it seems to me, that he was not a very happy man."

In 1910 the count wrote that his wife, who was an Egyptian princess, "says to tell you a thousand things, and I know that she is not a very happy man."

WARSHIPS TO BACK UP DEMAND FOR FLAG INSULT

WARSHIPS TO BACK UP DEMAND FOR FLAG INSULT

ishing touches on the cleaning of the big guns of the battleships Arkansas, Vermont and New Jersey, which are lying in Hampton Roads, while the stores were being delivered to these vessels from the navy yard by the heavy tug Alice. The fleet of small cutters and launches dashed from ship to ship, and the aircraft boat Yantic, which is to accompany the fleet to Tampico, lay alongside the Arkansas. The torpedo boat destroyers Parker, Cassin, Cummings and Hamble also were at anchor near the battleships.

PLAN BLOCKADE OF BOTH COASTS TO ENFORCE DEMAND

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Complete blockade of both coasts of Mexico will be the first action taken by the American navy in carrying out the order of President Wilson to force President Huerta to respect the American flag.

It was learned at the Navy Department today that all warships on the Pacific coast of the United States will be sent to the west coast of Mexico without delay. There are only a few submarines available for immediate dispatch to the Pacific in addition to those in Mexican waters, but the share in the naval demonstration.

It is probable that within the next

A heavy fog hung over the Roads when Admiral Price stepped aboard the Arkansas, but this did not hamper the activities of the little gunboat, which was shooting here and there on some mission in connection with the movement of the fleet for Mexican waters, coaling of the great battleships proceeded rapidly. They will carry enough fuel to make an extended stay at Tampico if necessary.

After he left the Arkansas, Admiral Price said the trip to Tampico would require about seven days. The dreadnaughts are fast vessels, and the presence of slow vessels in the fleet would retard the larger vessels, as it will not be necessary to maintain a close or battle formation.

MAN OF THE HOUR

Rear Admiral Mayo
IN MEXICAN CRISIS

The man who demanded that the Huerta troops at Tampico salute the American flag.

Born in Vermont, December 8, 1854.
Appointed to Naval Academy in 1872.

Commander of cruiser Maryland during Spanish-American war.
Served in Pacific waters until 1912.

Appointed commander of the United States Navy at Tampico in 1913.

Became personal aide to Secretary Daniels in May, 1913.

Took course in strategy and tactics at Newport, was college instructor at Annapolis, and then took command of a division of the Atlantic fleet.

His characteristics: Gentle, quiet, unassuming, brave, kindly and forceful, and a strict disciplinarian.

Apology already rendered and that the sovereignty of the republic would be degraded by giving the salute.

An official memorandum states that the United States flag was sent to representatives of other nations now stationed here by Senator Foraker, Minister of Foreign Relations.

This memorandum was being drawn up by Senator Foraker, Minister of Foreign Relations.

The aggressive action taken by the United States government in Mexico is an attempt by Huerta to effect terms of peace with the Constitution.

The United States flag was sent to representatives of other nations now stationed here by Senator Foraker, Minister of Foreign Relations.

A rumor is in circulation that today that Huerta has already sent two plenipotentiaries to the United States for negotiations with General Carranza.

Charges O'Shaughnessy has been in communication with President Huerta four times within two days and there is no doubt that an ultimatum in form has been delivered to the Mexican government. It is impossible to determine whether any time limit has been fixed in this, but reports indicate that President Wilson will have until 6 p. m. Thursday evening to make the full reparations demand.

The battleships Idaho, Illinois, Kansas and Missouri of the Atlantic fleet will be unable to leave for three or four days as they will have to be made ready for any emergency.

Arms and provisions have been stored in the city. The city is in a state of alarm and the people are being urged to remain in their homes.

Insult to U. S. for Which Reparation Is Demanded

Last Friday morning a boat's crew of United States marines in command of Assistant Paymaster Charles C. Copp, left the gunboat Dolphin for Tampico to get a fresh supply of gasoline.

The United States flag was flying from the stern of the whaleboat when it approached the landing in Tampico.

For no assigned cause Assistant Paymaster Copp and his men were placed under arrest as they stepped ashore.

Surrounded by a detail of Mexican Federal troops they were marched up and down the principal streets of the city and finally taken to the police station, where they were locked up.

One report of the affair says the United States flag was snatched from the stern of the whaleboat when the arrests were made and carried by the Federals through the streets at the head of the arresting column and subjected to the jeers and hisses of the anti-American populace.

There is no denial of the fact that the prisoners were made the subjects of the anti-American demonstration, though at the time of their arrest they had just stepped from a boat flying the United States flag, were wearing the uniform of the United States and were conducting themselves in an orderly manner.

After the Americans had been detained several hours, word of their arrest was carried to Admiral Mayo, who demanded their immediate release.

The demand was complied with, but 're only reparation made was a brief expression of regret for the alleged mistake.

ARREST OF MARINES BUT ONE OF NUMEROUS INSULTS

WASHINGTON, April 15.—That the arrest of Paymaster Copp and nine American marines at Tampico last Thursday was but one of a series of studied insults to the American flag by the Huerta government in Mexico became known today when the State Department lifted the embargo on Mexican news for the first time.

A memorandum given out by government officials detailed a number of such insults to the American flag and to American officers and men.

The most serious offense of all, however, was the forcible censorship of the Huerta government of an official dispatch from the State Department to the United States.

about the battleship Louisiana, today at the big slate-colored man of war swung at her anchor in the harbor awaiting the final order to sail for Tampico.

Throughout the night four white lights blazed at the masthead of the Louisiana, flashing this order to officers and men on shore leave.

"Come aboard at once. We are going to sail."

The services of the police department were enlisted on shore in rounding up sailors who were not known of the sailing order. Some who had been celebrating with too much beer were carried to the foot of West Twenty-ninth street in taxicabs, but there were few in number.

Throughout the morning there was a steady stream of launches plying between the shore and the battleship carrying sailors or provisions. Hundreds of barrels of provisions were carried on board, indicating that the commander of the Louisiana expected to be a long stay.

The scene was a picturesque one and there was plenty of activity. When the sailors learned that they were going to Mexico and there was a possibility of something happening within the next week or so they began to pack their trunks.

The Louisiana was the only battleship in New York waters to be ordered to Mexico, although the two superdreadnaughts New York and Texas were also ordered to Mexico.

is no real alarm in the existing situation. No attempts have been made on the lives of Americans now in Mexico.

The President will insist that the demand salute be fired. If it is not complied with, the President will order the firing of the salute.

NAVY BREAKS AMERICAN RECORDS IN CRUISING BATTLESHIP TO TAMPAICO

The People Will Support the President in Mexico; Let Us Hope He Will Support the People in Panama

In a dispatch to the editor in charge of the American, not intended for publication, but characteristic in its clearness and patriotism, Mr. Hearst said last night:

Last week, after the New Jersey election, one of President Wilson's most intimate friends and advisors told me that he and others had warned the President that his policy of the repeal of free tolls for American coastwise traffic through the Panama Canal was regarded as unpatriotic.

My informant said that the President was unwilling to abandon his Canal policy, but had decided to make a notable patriotic move in some other direction. In this way the President hoped to regain his prestige and at the same time to carry through his free tolls repeal bill. The demonstration at Tampico is probably the move which the President has decided to make.

The President's action at Tampico is exceedingly praiseworthy and intensely gratifying sentimentally to all citizens, but it will not, of course, compensate the nation for the great sentimental and material loss involved in abandoning its rights in the Panama Canal.

I believe, however, that President Wilson should be supported in every rightful individual act, regardless of what we may think of his general policy.

We are not opposed to President Wilson for what he is, but for what he does. In fact, we are not arrayed in opposition to President Wilson at all, but merely in support of what we believe to be the right and for the best interests of our country.

The editorials of our papers, therefore, should oppose only those acts of the President which we believe to be wrong, and should as strongly, or more strongly, support every individual act which we believe to be right.

In this instance our editorials should vigorously support the President's action at Tampico, which has brought a thrill of pride back into the breasts of many despondent Americans. Then, having praised the President for his demonstration of force at Tampico, I think we should in sincerity say this:

If President Wilson desires to regain the full measure of his patriotic prestige and public favor, he should demand respect for the American flag wherever it floats and can be made to float.

Let us protect American rights, not only momentarily in Mexico, but permanently at Panama, and at all times and at all places where there are American rights to protect.

In such a course all American newspapers would support him.

Courage and true nobility of character would be required to do right and admit having been wrong, but the people would admire that courage and nobility of character and be doubly grateful for the public benefit which such a patriotic course would confer.

The President's action in Tampico is a step in the right direction, but as yet it is only a step. It still may not be a permanent policy definitely determined.

Let the people and the people's press encourage the President to make further and firmer steps in the direction of the patriotic protection of American rights and interests, and let us hope that these surer steps will lead the President back into the beaten path of Democratic policies, back into the broad highway of uncompromising American independence which the patriots of the past have trod and which leads ever onward and upward to national greatness and glory.

WILLIAM RANDOLPH HEARST.

When Mr. Hearst refers to the thrill of pride awakened in American bosoms by the news of the President's action he spoke with keen recognition of public sentiment.

Back of the majestic fleet of United States warships steaming to Tampico to exact an apology for a wanton affront to the American flag, and back of the President who has ordered them thither, stands today a people united in support of this new policy of national dignity and vigor.

The President need fear no factional dissension nor partisan attack when he thus manifests his purpose of maintaining the national honor. The adversary particularly concerned, though arrogant, is pitifully weak. But were all the antagonistic forces of Europe allied with it in its refusal to apologize for the affront put upon our flag the whole nation would still be with him in his determination to purge that flag of any stain. It would rejoice

AMERICAN ARMADA GOING TO ENFORCE DEMAND HUERTA SALUTE FLAG HE INSULTED

SAILING TODAY FOR TAMPAICO.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—All records have been broken by the Navy Department in carrying out President Wilson's plan to rush the massive dreadnaughts and fast cruisers of the American navy to Tampico to uphold the nation's honor and enforce respect to its flag.

Three, but happy over the rapidity with which they had succeeded by a night of toil in completing the preliminary work of the great naval demonstration, attaches of the Navy Department returned to their desks early in the day to get into official reports as to the carrying out of the hurried orders.

From every naval yard along the Atlantic coast there came over night dispatches stating that a multitude and food supplies were being crated and shipped to the various ports where the crews were being rounded up for immediate departure.

Tampico is the keynote of Mexico, and it was to be declared will probably be the first port attacked by the United States. This city had grown rapidly in the past few years, until, it surpasses Vera Cruz in importance. It is the gateway to the interior of Mexico.

Tampico is the outlet for all fields of commerce, the richest in the world. It is the chief port of Mexico, and it is the gateway to the interior of Mexico.

strength in the navy. She carries guns and 200 men.

Police of the first three divisions were asked by the authorities of the Navy Yard to stand up as many of the crew of the Tacoma as they could draw the fire of the other vessels.

Announcements were made from the stage all the motion pictures and burlesque theatres, and the proprietors of cafes were asked to use the word to their patrons. One party officer of the ship appeared on the stage of one theatre, made the announcement, and succeeded in finding a number of the crew.

Police officers scanned each party of sailors they met on the streets, and if the men had hands revealing their connection with the gunboat, they were told to go to the Navy Yard at once.

Orders were received at the Navy Yard from the Navy Department at Washington to have all the ordinary seamen and coal passers ready for transfer to the cruiser Tacoma, when she stood at the Rhode Island port on her way from Boston to Tampico. There are 500 men now available, but it is believed the Tacoma will be able to take only about half of these.

DEMOCRATIC DISASTER PEPENDING TOLLS ISSUE, SAYS A. H. LEWIS

By ALFRED HENRY LEWIS.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—The Wilson pro-English closed-canal anti-American Democrats, who are striving to Britanize the government and per incident scuttle the Democratic party, are becoming a prey to a multiplied uneasiness.

Word has come to town that the violent and impressive Colonel Roosevelt will return to these shores within six weeks and that he will be talking. Also that he will talk on the tariffed Americans, a closed canal, England where Wilson left her, and strong, earnest, anti-blank measures with Mexico.

The Wilsonites are afraid that a homecoming on the Roosevelt part will apply the torch to the grass in ten places at once and set the whole political prairie in a blaze. It will mean for the Democrats the loss of the Senate, the loss of the House and a White House clothed in sackcloth and ashes.

Every word of politics since Mr. Wilson made his badly considered canal effort to surrender to the English has been as a pall of locust water in the Democratic face.

The news from Boston was bad. The news from Danville was worse. The marmos from New York, from Louisville, from a score of other centers have been reaching the Democratic ranks. Senator Duffell stepped across from the Blue-Island-pro-English-closed-canal side and aligned himself with the American opposition.

Senator Newlands followed the Duffell example. Both had been counted for the closed-canal-English side and both defected for the open-canal-American side.

The Wilson line of Senate battle seems rocky and rotten in many other places. Yet, forsooth there is little chance of Wilson's days to color the Wilson-pro-English check with the red ink of a closed canal hope, and that little with each new defection is becoming obviously, if not beautifully, less.

As another sign of disintegrating pro-English Wilson Democrats the progressive Republicans, crying "free tolls" as a war shout, are beginning to gather strength.

It is the common talking of the open canal side by the Progressives that worries the Wilsonites. The Progressives are not the thickest folk abroad in Gold of politics. They find a current and mark its direction as quickly as any other men.

Wherefore the Wilsonites tremble from the voracious anti-English-closed-canal attitude of the Progressives that they have discovered a preponderance of similar feeling in the country at large.

The Progressives are gathering strength that these eminent gentlemen could shed a worth while ray which should light up certain closed canal corners of popular inspection that have heretofore been dark.

The Progressives and Openers, the Norrises and the Gores insist that a full load of lobby light be turned on. Why should not the Openers committee itself do the turning of the light to its present canal inquiry?

And in what more sufficient fashion could that light turning be accomplished than by calling to bear witness Mr. Hill and Mr. Wilson? They have talked closed canal at the White House, talked it about the corridors of Congress. Their reason was "nationality." Even while their fox presence was subtle. Let the Progressives committee call them and question them down to the railroad closed canal bottom.

It is a Mr. House man who gave to their misadvised votes for an English-Island closed canal have come to no gloomish prophesying as the result of the record their own development in politics.

They are all apart again, however, daily, too, as Illinois and Massachusetts. I tried to cheer the cart-load of Illinois. He has been wearing from home and only one in thirty letters that day received applauded his position.

P. S. Mr. House no doubts the thirty candidate of Mr. Roosevelt. Half the House and Senate turned him all ready elected. An Anglo-American, who has been standing for an Anglo-American canal, they say, will do the better trick.

They look forward to this Fall congressional contest on a united Republican party and declare that two years later Mr. Roosevelt will go over to, Wilson the same some landslide of politics.

Republican House Leader Mann took twenty years younger, while the House and Senate have had two years later Mr. Roosevelt will go over to, Wilson the same some landslide of politics.

JOHNSON, TOLL EXPERT, ADMITS CHANGE OF MIND

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Professor Emory H. Johnson of the University of Pennsylvania, who investigated the economic side of the canal question, as a witness before the Senate Canal Committee, recited his previous statements that he was not in favor of toll exemptions and that water competition had no effect upon railroad rates.

Senator O'Gorman read from two books written by Professor Johnson, in which he said that water competition was the one thing that tended to maintain competition for shipping and keep the railroad rates at a lower level than otherwise would be the case.

"Is that your opinion now?" asked Senator O'Gorman.

"No," replied the witness, "I've changed my views on that subject. When the next edition of my books is printed I intend to revise them in that particular."

"It is probable that within another two years this committee will again be considering this question," said Senator O'Gorman. "Do you think that your views will have changed by that time?"

"I think so," replied the witness, "I think so."

GETTING INTO 'DICKEY' HAS ITS TROUBLES

This is the latest task assigned to a student candidate for admission to the "Dickey" Society at Harvard.

Find the cube root of the number of electric light globes in the dome of the state House.

Multiply by the number representing the age of the youngest nurse at a Boston hospital.

Divide the result by the number of employees named Grace in a Boston hotel.

Multiply the remainder by the total number of lamp posts surrounding the Lincoln Reservoir and steps in the Parker Hill Monument.

Add this result to the number of bristles in a toothbrush and the number of hits made by the Boston University baseball team in 1911.

And turn in the total on the backs of two autographed photographs of actresses now playing in Boston.

NEW BRITAIN, Ct., April 15.—George A. Quigley, Republican, was elected Mayor, defeating his Democratic opponent, Mayor Joseph M. Halloran, who sought a third re-election.

B. A. A. TO TAX MEMBERS TO CLEAR DEFICIT

The Boston Athletic Association, in order to wipe out a deficiency in the running expenses of the club, is going to tax each member $10.

The plan suggested by an investigating committee, the naming of which is said to have resulted from a controversy between factions of the club, which came to light following a suggestion of the association's house committee that the dues be raised from $10 to $15 a year.

The proposed raising of the dues was vigorously opposed. The expense deficit, however, is said to have made it imperative.

As most of the recommendations offered in the reports of the special committee call for constitutional amendments, the final outcome of the association controversy will be known only after a meeting which is scheduled for the latter part of the month, at which time certain officers of the club will come up for re-election.

D. R.'s to Meet on Monday.

The State society, daughters of the Revolution, and the Junior J. R. and D. R. will observe Patriot's Day by a meeting at a Back Bay hotel, Monday afternoon.

SEVEN PASSENGER SIX

Ride In All The Other "Sixes" and "Fours"
—Then You'll Buy This SIX

Studebaker sales more than fifteen hundred cars a week.

Studebaker SIX sales more than any other "Six" in America.

And the reason—so plain, so obvious, that you can't get away from it.

Studebaker SIX sales are in advance of all others, not because the Studebaker SIX costs less than some other cars, but because other cars cannot give more, even at a higher price.

Study that statement from any angle—from every angle—and the result will be the same.

If smartness, and style, and beauty are what you are looking for—there can be only one conclusion concerning the Studebaker SIX.

If it's economy—study the light, strong construction; and hear the low-cost story that owners are telling in every city in the country.

If it's carrying capacity—the Studebaker SIX carries seven without crowding—with space to spare—in comfort so complete you couldn't ask more.

If it's starting and lighting, no car—not one, at any price—surpasses the splendid Studebaker-Wagner separate unit system.

Is it a question of what's in the car and how it's built? Listen:

This Studebaker SIX was built and re-built and tried and tested, and tried again, for three years before the first perfected car went on the market.

We've built more than 120,000 motors and this SIX motor is the fruit and flower of that invaluable experience.

No company in the world buys and uses as great a volume of the finest steel to subject it to a more drastic course of heat-treating and testing.

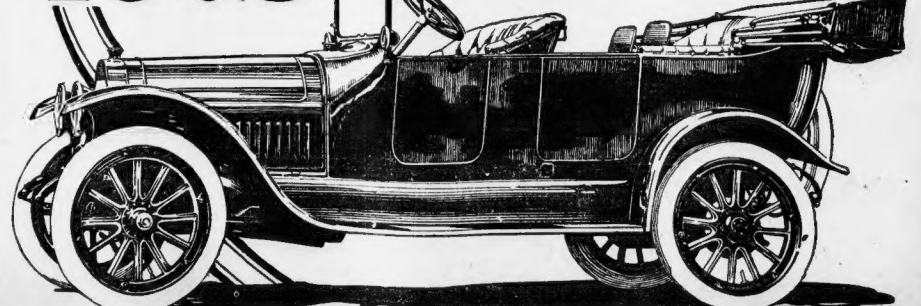

No automobile company in the world buys as many Timken bearings—and this SIX has a full Timken equipment.

No car in the world has a safer, better axle than this full floating rear axle.

No car in the world is in greater detail manufactured within the plants of its own builder than the Studebaker SIX—stampings, castings and forgings—springs, bodies and upholstery—our own crown fenders, our own coils, and even our own tools.

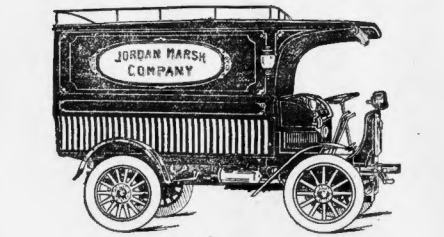

The Studebaker SIX is leading in sales because it deserves to lead. Take that drive with the Studebaker dealer tomorrow.

Fleet of Autocars Build Up Suburban Trade for Jordan Marsh Company

First Autocar proved so valuable to their business they now have thirteen.

THE strongest evidence of the worth of a motor truck is repeat orders from its users. An abundance of such evidence is possessed by the Autocar Company, for more than 60 per cent. of all our sales are repeat orders.

Generally speaking, it is the concerns who have used the Autocar Delivery Vehicle longest that are its strongest endorsers. John Wanamaker, Adams Express Company, Shultz Bread Company and scores of others, who first tested the Autocar four and five years ago, now have large fleets of this reliable delivery car.

Adams Express Company, with 158 Autocars, has discontinued the use of horses entirely in some of its important districts, notably Philadelphia.

The case of Jordan Marsh Company is typical in showing the way the Autocar meets every test imposed upon it by careful merchants who must be fully convinced of the business value of an equipment before they buy.

Jordan Marsh Company first experimented with an Autocar in November, 1912. Its delivery work was so marked that the following April found the company equipped with seven Autocars.

These seven cars were assigned to long suburban delivery routes, and every one speedily demonstrated its value as an economical business getter. Jordan Marsh Company discovered that distant towns, impossible to reach satisfactorily with horses, were easily covered with Autocars and that the quicker delivery service meant increased satisfaction on the part of their out-of-town customers.

For ten months, Jordan Marsh Company studied the work of their Autocars—the daily mileage, the cost of operation, their ability to withstand severe road conditions, etc. The result was such that in February, 1914, they placed an order with us for six more cars, making a total of thirteen Autocars now engaged in their suburban delivery service.

There are two main reasons for Autocar satisfaction. One is the integrity of construction of the car, which gives it remarkable durability under hard daily service month after month and year after year. The other is the attention given by Autocar Service Stations to every owner.

Boston owners of Autocars have the advantage of our thoroughly equipped Beacon Street Service Building. Complete garage and maintenance facilities are available day or night at the convenience of owner or driver. It is the Autocar policy to safeguard the interests of every customer after as well as before he makes his purchase.

Let the experience of hundreds of concerns using the AUTOCAR assist you in YOUR efforts towards business expansion. Write today for our new catalog.

STABILITY
The Oakland Motor Car Company made its first car in 1907. We have followed the progress of the industry and in succession have made two, four and six-cylinder cars, and in our progress have left in the front row. We built less than 300 cars in 1907. In 1913 we produced over 8000 cars. Consistent progress like this can mean but one thing—that our foundation was correct and on that foundation we have built permanently and for all time. For 1914, we offer a line of beautiful and dependable cars. Cars that are good to look at and cars that are mechanically true. Four and six-cylinder models. Open and closed bodies. SP. BARRAGE TO DEFEAT SENATORS

By JACK CONWAY.

"Dutch" Leonard will be the hope of the Red Sox in the second game of the series with the Senators at Fenway Park this afternoon. Carrigan's hand is not the least bit dominant because they were beaten by Walter Johnson yesterday by a count of 2 to 0 and expect that they will win up matters today.

With the mighty Johnson out of the way, the Red Sox still have a chance to take the series from the visitors. Griffith would probably not wish to use his star hurler in two games so early in the season, as he would not want to have him injure his pitching arm.

And in our humble opinion there would not be a great deal left of the dear old Washington club if W. Johnson were out of the way.

Leonard is sure to have some interesting for the Senators. The California has been traveling at a merry clip this spring and believes he will be able to outpace yesterday's defeat.

BOEHLING ON ENIGMA.
Washington usually does not do very well against left-handed pitchers, and Leonard does well against the team from the Capital. "Hutch" has not been in the box since Sunday when he held Charley Horner's amateur Cincinnati double to two scattered hits in seven innings.

Leonard has plenty of "ammo" and the Senators are breaking to the queen's taste, but he has been rather wild this spring. If he can keep the ball over the plate, the Senators will have some trouble hitting him.

Joe Boehling or Joe Busio will do the hitting in Griffith's line today to advantage. It is possible that the mound will experience trouble in relating the plate.

Carrigan will probably catch for the Red Sox again today. Leonard does his best work when Bill is behind the plate, but in his opinion.

CASE OF TWO MICH. JOHNSON.
Too much Johnson was the cause of the Red Sox defeat yesterday. We were led to believe that the big fellow was not in the best of condition this spring.

a single to right field. Mottler continued the assault on Collins' courage when he singled to left.
Hooper came in and took Foster's place and he looked as though the Senators would not get a man across the counting station.
Mottler, however, sent a stealing third base and headed for home. Lewis made a magnificent throw to Carrigan and Bill tagged Johnson.
The "Big Swede" was traveling at merry clip and when he struck Carrigan he knocked the ball out of his hand. Mottler went to third and Mottler to second on the play.
Carrigan signaled Collins to pass (as the latter is classed as the demon batter of the Washington team. Bill's plan sent a man over for Morgan sent a high fly to Hooper. The speedy outfielder was bothered by the sun and dropped the ball. Mottler and Mottler scoring.

That ended Washington's scoring and they were not dangerous for the rest of the game. But they were not forced to worry as Mr. Johnson was giving an exhibition of real big league pitching.

SENATORS GET AN EARLY START.
The Senators started after Collins in the very first inning. With one out, Carrigan doubled to left center. Mottler hit a fast grounder to Gardner, but Larry threw him out at first base.

Collins put on speed and got two strikes on Gardner. When hands struck at the second ball, Foster started to walk toward third base, thinking that Gardner had fanned.

Both of these come ups have shown to advantage in the past. In the mound, but experience trouble in relating the plate.

Carrigan will probably catch for the Red Sox again today. Leonard does his best work when Bill is behind the plate, but in his opinion.

CARRIGAN STARTED FIREWORKS.
Too much Johnson was the cause of the Red Sox defeat yesterday. We were led to believe that the big fellow was not in the best of condition this spring.

Johnson pitched in mid-season form and when his teammates scored three runs in the third session it was all over but the shouting. The "Big Swede" allowed his fourth hit while he struck out eight men. Carrigan was the only Red Sox player who got an at-bat third base.

Ray, the catcher, hit the first line drive for the Red Sox and allowed seven safe bolls, but he would not have scored upon it were he not for errors by Carrigan and Hooper.

Ed Kelly, one of Carrigan's credit pitchers, finished the game for the Senators and did not allow a strike hit. Collins was taken out of the game in the eighth session in order to permit Hooper to bat for him.

HOW GAME WAS WON AND LOST.
Washington won the game in the third session. After Collins had popped to Gardner, Johnson advanced

BANK & TRUST LEAGUE OPENS ON SATURDAY

A new baseball league, to be known as the Bank and Trust Company League, composed of teams representing First National Bank, Fourth Atlantic National Bank, International Trust Company, Lee, Higginson & Co., Merchants National Bank and Stone & Webster, has been organized. The following officers elected: President, W. A. Insall, secretary, J. H. Davidson; treasurer, E. F. Meisinger. Saturday and holiday games will be played during the summer, the season opening on April 13, when Stone & Webster vs. International Trust Company, Lee, Higginson & Co. vs. Merchants National Bank, First National Bank vs. Fourth Atlantic National Bank, will meet in the first battle for the championship.

The league has donated a beautiful silver memento to be given to the winning team of the league. Many ex-prep school and college stars are out for places on the various teams and the finest representing the financial institutions will make up the bulk of the last amateur league ball player.

The ball was thrown by Morgan and Carrigan and Carrigan went to second. Carrigan tried hard to score another run, but he hit a hard grounder to Johnson who tossed him out at first base.

SCOTT PLAYED A STAR GAME.
Trix Speaker was on the job in center field yesterday. The "Big Swede" was at bat four times, but was unable to get on base.

Everett Scott came up to expectations. The little outfielder did have a great deal to do on the field, but he did not get on base.

The "fans" were greatly impressed by the work of Scott. He hit the ball hard each time on the field and should make a grand record with the Red Sox.

Steve Yerkes played a fine game at second base. He made four putouts and two assists. In the sixth inning he ran into right and made a brilliant catch of Chubb's shot fly.

There were 2,421 "fans" at the game while the first ball was tossed out by Mayor Curley.

Title Wrestling Bout.
Lawrence Light (Iowa) A. A. of Meador has received the sanction of the National Wrestling Association for a title bout with the champion, John J. McLaughlin, on Saturday night.

England amateur wrestling champion, this year's preliminary title bout, will be held in Springfield, April 23, and the semi-final and final bouts will follow.

Little Bobbie's Pa

By WILLIAM F. KIRK

THE ladies of our new club, the Social Reformers, have got a kind of a treat for our dear husbands, and Ma to Pa last night. I bet you never saw what it is. I don't know, and Pa, unless you are a doctor.

I found one where that was a lot of our husbands, and Ma, No. 1, and she was to be our first. I don't know, and we have a doctor so careful that it will be a lot of a plate.

It is a very beautiful and thoughtful of you, Ma. But what is the matter with the doctor? I know it is a lot of a plate. I don't know, and we have a doctor so careful that it will be a lot of a plate.

Four Stunning Paris Styles Exclusively Posed for This Page

The scalloped flounces of our grandmother's day have returned and are most effectively used in the charming model of white tulle marked No. 1.

Model No. 2 does not look particularly startling, and yet it shows the far famed "jute clothe" - the skirt of the harem - in other words, the blousier skirt.

Model No. 3 is developed in vivid green faille, striped in white. The bold silk kimono, widely opened over a vest of gathered white net finished by a daring collar of white embroidered net.

CHAPTER III.

AT NOONDAY Hans, the shepherd boy, sat in the shade of the big poplar near the millstone, his back to the wall, and his dog leaning against his legs.

He looked at the tall letter from Gretchen. To read that letter, and to know Hans, was enough.

She glared at the fat little ballet master, who, in a moment, had turned his back on her, and she saw that he was not a ballet master.

He was a man, a man who had been a ballet master, and he was a man who had been a ballet master.

He was a man, a man who had been a ballet master, and he was a man who had been a ballet master.

"Amsterrdan!" That was the name of the town, and Hans was a shepherd boy.

He was a man, a man who had been a ballet master, and he was a man who had been a ballet master.

He was a man, a man who had been a ballet master, and he was a man who had been a ballet master.

He was a man, a man who had been a ballet master, and he was a man who had been a ballet master.

He was a man, a man who had been a ballet master, and he was a man who had been a ballet master.

He was a man, a man who had been a ballet master, and he was a man who had been a ballet master.

He was a man, a man who had been a ballet master, and he was a man who had been a ballet master.

He was a man, a man who had been a ballet master, and he was a man who had been a ballet master.

He was a man, a man who had been a ballet master, and he was a man who had been a ballet master.
